HE WAS THE MONKEY.

He Tried to Evade and Baffle and Disconcert His Faithful Wife.

He had been making a fool and a guy of himself, by and through the medium of bad whisky and beer, obtained in various rum holes in East Liverpool. He had been spending hard-earned money in these dens of vice and iniquity, money which was sadly needed in his home, and the wife was endeavoring to get him away from his boon companions and away from public gaze, where he was disgracing her and himself. Maddened by the drink devil, the otherwise kind husband, a good man when sober, answered his faithful partner

"Say, old woman, you'd best go home and leave me alone. You ought to have better sense than to fool with me now. Don't you know that you are makin' a monkey of yourself?"

The true and plucky wife was not a whit abashed, and was fully equal to the occasion. Laying her hand upon the shoulder of her drunken husband, she looked him squarely in the eye and said:

"You're coming home with me now, Jack. You're a disgrace to the whole monkey tribe in your present condition, and you'll be ashamed of yourself and your language when you become sober and your real self. Come home, Jack, and let the grinning monkeys you're now associating with go back to their cages and booze to their heart's content. You're going home with me- now!"

And Jack went home, despite the protests of the other two-legged monkeys or donkeys. And this occurred on one of the leading thoroughfares of East Liverpool. Surely, he was the monkey for the time being, and all true men and women will glory in her pluck and nerve. Banish the accursed open saloon. Put the everyday temptation away from such men.

CHASING HIM TO A DUGOUT

He Pleaded Guilty to Robbing the Store of W. R. Caldwell.

WILL BE TAKEN TO LISBON.

Tony Kountzler, who assisted George Heckathorne in stealing clothes from the store of W. R. Caldwell on the night of March 14, is in jail and will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow by Chief Thompson.

Kountzler has been in this vicinity for four or five days and has been living in a dog tent across from Jethro. The officers knew he was there and spent two nights this week watching the place, but Kountzler had his spies out and would receive notice every time the officers were after him. His tent was so located that he could see every person who went down the railroad track toward his temporary home.

Last evening as the officers were coming from Wellsville they saw Kountzler standing on the bank near is chanty and determined to effect pture if possible. Officers Dawson and Davidson secured a skiff and rowed to his place. He was standing back of a tree in the rear of the shanty when they caught sight of him. When he saw the officers he started up over the hill, but the officers ran their skiff up on the bank and the chase began in earnest. Kountzler was chased to a point near the cup rock and then went up the hollow at Shower Bath closely pursued by the omcers. He took refuge in the old dug out spring house. Here the officers found him and placed him under arrest. He did not refuse to come to this city with them and they had no trouble with him. When asked about Heckathorne he said he didn't know where he was.

When taken before the mayor he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of robbing the store of Caldwell and was bound overto court in the sum of $1,000. He will be taken to the county jail tomorrow.

Victorious.

Before Mayor Bough retired from office several complaints had been lodged with him against a dog owned by Wilfred Wallace, Third street. The complaints continued after Mayor Davidson took the oath of office and yesterday he determined to get rid of the complaints and his dogship at the same time. The surly brute was captured and brought to city hall and tied in the rear room waiting the pleasure of the mayor. The dog was a little bit of a thing, but it was one of the kind that is so affectionate and it insisted on taking a piece out of everybody it met. After supper his honor, armed himself with a large revolver and retired to the back room to settle the question with the dog. He had a match in his hand and he struck it, while the dog showed all of its teeth and prepared to make a spring. The mayor prepared to shoot and the match went went out. For a few minutes it sounded as though the scene of the British-Boer war had been transferred to the back room of city hall and reinforcements in the shape of police officers arrived on the scene just as the mayor emerged from the room with a smile of victory on his face. The funeral of the dog took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and Sanitary Officer Burgess had charge.

THEY STOLE A HAM FOR THEIR SUPPER

John Brown and Patrick Mooney Got Into Trouble at Wellsville Yesterday.

CHASED UP MAIN STREET

Constable Thorn Proved to Be a Good Sprinter and Captured the Men.

TOOK SUPPER IN AN ALLEY.

John Brown and Pat Mooney, of this city, were arrested at Wellsville last night on a charge of stealing a ham from the saloon of Hughey Wood, on Front street.

The men entered the place about 5 o'clock and asked for an old newspaper. Mr. Wood gave hem one and they passed through the lunch room, took a ham from the counter and wrapped it in the paper. They left the place through a Main street door and went hastily to a shed in the rear of the Hotel Metropole. Here they proceeded to make their supper from the stolen ham.

Blair Poe, who had been in the saloon and noticed the ham on the counter, saw the men come out with the suspicious looking parcel. He soon made the discovery that the ham had been stolen. The police were notified at once and the two men were captured by Constable Thorne after an exciting chase up Main street.

One habit of ordering this grade of "ink," and it is said, judging from the supplies he received, he did an awful amount of writing. Another business man stated that a friend of his, a clothier, ordered four quarts of this ink, and, after testing it, could not swear whether it was ink, bilge water or bad medicine.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The central thought of conservative citizens, taxpayers and property holders, when they consider the councilmanic question, is that councilmen are selected and elected by the people for the benefit of the people. If this result be not obtained, failure is the any councilman who does not measure up to this standard. He may, by political intrigue, backed by fellows of like ilk to himself, hold power and remain in council; but he is a monumental failure, nevertheless, and the citizens at large will be blessed and benefited when he leaves his country's service for his country's good. There is no personal application meant by this on the part of the writer of this article; but, if the shoe fits you, put it on-more shame to yourself, Mr. Councilman. When you block the wheels of progress, and stand in the way of the best interterests are not specially prompted by the ballots of your brother councilmen; you become an absolute failure and are unworthy of the berth you all councilmen to whom this may justly apply.

GOD PITY THEM.

such in East Liverpool. You would be astounded, readers of the News Review, if the veil of secrecy should be drawn aside and you be permitted full knowledge respecting the identity of these victims. We have men in our midst who are not even known as hard drinkers, and who nevertheless voluntarily confess that they are almost hopelessly in the clutches of the rum fiend and devil; men who have taken the Keeley cure and the Silver Ash cure, remained sober for a time and then drifted back into the hell One Year in Advance........$5 00 of their own making. Not their Three Months...... 1 25 choice, mind you, but the inevitable By the Week...... 10 result of constant tippling, attracted by the damnable open saloon door, which greets them and tempts them on every hand. At an early hour this morning, Friday, April 20, 1900, three such victims of the rum and saloon devil walked the streets of East Liverpool, vainly trying to get a drink, for the purpose of satisfying the awful craving within. Vainly trying, say you, in this city, where rum can be had over the bar at any hour, day or night, week day or Sabbath day. Yes, vainly trying. Why? Simply because the poor, miserable victims had been drained dry of cash, and had so often been found in this condition that no one would loan them even so much as a penny, and no keeper of hell hole or dive would trust them for the price of a drink. God pity such men. And God have mercy on a government which will license a traffic which creates such victims by the thousand annually.

THE WIDE AWAKE PRINTER.

The newspaper compositors' occupation is very much a thing of the past. The wonderful Linotype has taken his place. The daily journal has made wonderful strides in consequence. In the composing room, the work of the foreman has been very much lessened and very much simplified, and the work of the floor hands and setters of advertisements is rendered very much more pleasing. The operator at the Linotype generally comes from the force in the composing room, or at least the rule in the union organization is that the oldtime hand compositor must have the preference. If he becomes speedy in advocate of the paving of Pennsyl- and accurate—he has a soft snap, at lucrative employment, prices rangthy of his reputation for shrewdness ing from $15.00 to $30.00 a week, according to expertness and location. In the small daily offices, where but one machine is used, the operator usually fills the bill of machinist, as well as that of operator. He can learn both in the short space of from four to six months. In East Liverpool he now receives $19.20 per week, of eight hours daily, with the snug price of 60 cents per hour for any over time his services may be demanded. Then the wide-awake (?) printers in the composing room determine to "Kill word written opposite the name of the goose that lays the golden egg," as remarked by an employer of printers in this gity. His union (?) demands a reduction from nine to eight hours per day; less work you see, and less hours, and an advance of three dollars per week for the foreman and three dollars for the floor or job hand. Truly the wide-awake (?) printer is a hustler, and very keen, and he never halts in his hustle to sing that good, old song: "You'll Never Miss the Water 'Till the Well Runs Dry."

Says There'll be No Fight.

CARNEGIES SAID TO BE IN CONTROL

Alleged That Gates Will Be Asked by the Directors Today to Resign-Report of the Proposed Consolidation Comes from Chicago.

NEW YORK, April 20 .- The Herald to-

Wall street is full of rumors to the effect that John W. Gates is to be deposed as the executive head of the American Steel and Wire company. These stories, which have been in circulation for some time, assumed tangible form yesterday when it was said that a syndicate, headed by Andrew Carnegie, Henry C. Frick, the Seligman interests and the Moore brothers, has obtained control of the compary and will put Mr. Frick in Mr. Gates' place.

Although this story met many denials, and absolutely no confirmation, it received much respectful consideration and had more or less to do with the strength which Steel and Wire and other steel stocks showed during the greater part of the day.

Nothing can be learned of the plans of this anti-Gates movement, and it is impossible to get any confirmation, or even foundation, for the story that he is to lose control of the company.

President John Lambert is expected in Wall street today, and it is said that during the next 24 hours there will be important conferences, from which Mr. Gates will be excluded, although he will be the topic discussed. Wall street hopes that at the meeting to be held today the Steel and Wire directors will order the reopening of the plants recently shut down.

Many of the stories regarding steel and wire that have been circulated so freely of late met denials yesterday (Thursday.)

President Rudolph Keppler, of the Stock exchange, declared that there is absolutely no truth in the report that the company's shares are to be dropped from the exchange's trading list. He said that the exchange had received no complaint whatever of Mr. Gates or of the Steel and Wire stocks. The report that the next Steel and Wire dividends will be paid in scrip, if at all, was neither confirmed nor denied. Chairman Gates was not at his office during the day, it being said that he was at the Westchester Country club. At the office of Seligman & Co., none of the rumors concerning Steel and Wire affairs would be discussed.

The Tribune today said A report which found many believers yesterday afternoon was that Mr. Gates would be requested by the directors today to resign the chairmanship of the board and that H. C. Frick would be elected to succeed him; and it was added that President Lambert, of the Steel and Wire company, who left Chicago for this city on Wednesday night, has tarried at Pittsburg a few hours on his journey for the purpose of conferring with Mr. Frick regarding this rumored

THE NAVAL BILL DEBATED.

Question of Survey of Ocean About Our Recently-Acquired Islands Discussed in House.

Washington, April 20.—The house spent most of the session debating a proposition in the naval bill designed to turn over to the navy the survey and charting of the waters of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The bill carried an appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose. Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee, led the fight against it, arguing that 'such surveying of these waters as should be made should be performed by the coast and geodetic survey, which, he said, could do the work cheaper and better.

In the end the house sustained his view, adopting an amendment offered by him to appropriate only the regular $10,000 for ocean surveys. The chairman of the committee of the whole, Mr. Payne, overruled the point of order against the appropriation for the new naval academy, but an amendment offered by Mr. Cannon was adopted, providing that before the money appropriated by the bill for the academy be expended plans for the whole improve-ment not to exceed $6,000,000 be submitted and approved by the secretary of Dr. France justified the procedure, because of the disorder following the blowing up of the Bunker Hill mill. Much of the questioning was designed to bring out the extent to which General Merriam and the United States forces participated indirectly in the enforcement of the permit system.

In a Lisbon Paper Concerning Those Alleged Fairfield Township Forgeries.

Lisbon Patriot.

Last Monday week William S. Newhouse, of Fairfield township, stock dealer, came to Lisbon, bought a ticket for Pittsburg and quietly left the state and up to this time his ter of Henry DeRhodes, of Fairfield township, and Newhouse and his wife continued to live at the old home with her parents. He has been an extensive shipper of stock to the Pittsburg markets for a number of years. Before leaving it is claimed he forged some notes, signing the names of Henry DeRhodes and Reason Newhouse to same. He took with him about $2.000 in currency. He left his wife and one child behind, and it is said family troubles caused the absconding. Two sides are stated. One is that the DeRhodes family ill treated Newhouse, while on the other hand it is claimed that Newhouse fell into drink and other evil habits in Pittsburg and that his own conduct brought on the trouble. One of the creditors is William H. DeRhodes, who has a claim against Newhouse amounting to $687.38 due, he says, on an account. He has filed suit on the same and has caused an attachment to be issued against certain personal property belonging to Newhouse which is in possession of Henry DeRhodes. The property consists of stock, etc.

ADJUSTOR HERE.

THE LOSS AT POSTOFFICE IS BE-ING ADJUSTED.

Postoffice Inspector Owens Condemned All the Fixtures When He Was Here.

Inturance Adjuster Skiles, of Cleveland, is in the city today for the purpose of adjusting the loss at the postoffice. He will not be able to complete his work before this evening.

Inspector A. P. Owens, of the postoffice department, when he was here condemned all the fixtures in the postoffice and stated that new ones should be purchased. An effort will be made to have the best possible fixtures and make the East Liverpool office one of the finest in eastern Ohio.

HE WAS THE MONKEY.

He Tried to Evade and Baffle and Disconcert His Faithful Wife.

He had been making a fool and a guy of himself, by and through the medium of bad whisky and beer, obtained in various rum holes in East Liverpool. He had been spending hard-earned money in these dens of vice and iniquity, money which was sadly needed in his home, and the wife was endeavoring to get him away from his boon companions and away from public gaze, where he was disgracing her and himself. Maddened by the drink devil, the otherwise kind husband, a good man when sober, answered his faithful partner

"Say, old woman, you'd best go home and leave me alone. You ought to have better sense than to fool with me now. Don't you know that you are makin' a monkey of yourself?"

The true and plucky wife was not a whit abashed, and was fully equal to the occasion. Laying her hand upon the shoulder of her drunken husband, she looked him squarely in the eye and said:

"You're coming home with me now Jack. You're a disgrace to the whole monkey tribe in your present condition, and you'll be ashamed of yourself and your language when you become sober and your real self. Come home, Jack, and let the grinning monkeys you're now associating with go back to their cages and booze to their heart's content. You're going home with me- now!"

And Jack went home, despite the protests of the other two-legged monkeys or donkeys. And this occurred on one of the leading thoroughfares of East Liverpool. Surely, he was the monkey for the time being, and all true men and women will glory in her pluck and nerve. Banish the accursed open saloon. Put the everyday temptation away from such men.

CHASING HIM TO A DUCOUT

He Pleaded Guilty to Robbing the Store of W. R. Caldwell.

WILL BE TAKEN TO LISBON.

Tony Kountzler, who assisted George Heckathorne in stealing clothes from the store of W. R. Caldwell on the night of March 14, is in jail and will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow by Chief Thompson.

Kountzler has been in this vicinity for four or five days and has been living in a dog tent across from Jethro. The officers knew he was there and spent two nights this week watching the place, but Kountzler had his spies out and would receive notice every time the officers were after him. His tent was so located that he could see every person who went down the railroad track toward his temporary home.

Last evening as the officers were coming from Wellsville they saw Kountzler standing on the bank near abanty and determined to effect pture if possible. Officers Dawson and Davidson secured a skiff and rowed to his place. He was standing back of a tree in the rear of the shanty when they caught sight of him. When he saw the officers he started up over the hill, but the officers ran their skiff up on the bank and the chase began in earnest. Kountzler was chased to a point near the cup rock and then went up the hollow a Shower Bath closely pursued by the officers. He took refuge in the old dug out spring house. Here the officers found him and placed him under arrest. He did not refuse to come to this city with them and they had no trouble with him. When asked about Heckathorne he said he didn't know where he was.

When taken before the mayor he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of robbing the store of Caldwell and was bound overto court in the sum of $1,000. He will be taken to the county jail tomorrow.

SHOT A DOG.

Mayor Davidson Tries His Hand as a Marksman and Comes Out

Victorious.

Before Mayor Bough retired from office several complaints had been lodged with him against a dog owned by Wilfred Wallace, Third street. The complaints continued after Mayor Davidson took the oath of office and yesterday he determined to get rid of the complaints and his dogship at the same time. The surly brute was captured and brought to city hall and tied in the rear room waiting the pleasure of the mayor. The dog was a little bit of a thing, but it was one of the kind that is so affectionate and it insisted on taking a piece out of everybody it met. After supper his honor, armed himself with a large revolver and retired to the back room to settle the question with the dog. He had a match in his hand and he struck it, while the dog showed all of its teeth and prepared to make a spring. The mayor prepared to shoot and the match went went out. For a few minutes it sounded as though the scene of the British-Boer war had been transferred to the back room of ing into a car on the Horn switch and city hall and reinforcements in the stealing beer. He was paroled from the shape of police officers arrived on the scene just as the mayor emerged from the room with a smile of victory on his face. The funeral of the dog took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and Sanitary Officer Burgess had charge.

THEY STOLE A HAM FOR THEIR SUPPER

John Brown and Patrick Mooney Got Into Trouble at Wellsville Yesterday.

CHASED UP MAIN STREET

Constable Thorn Proved to Be a Good Sprinter and Captured the Men.

TOOK SUPPER IN AN ALLEY.

John Brown and Pat Mooney, of this city, were arrested at Wellsville last night on a charge of stealing a ham from the saloon of Hughey Wood, on Front street.

The men entered the place about 5 o'clock and asked for an old newspaper. Mr. Wood gave hem one and they passed through the lunch room, took a ham from the counter and wrapped it in the paper. They left the place through a Main street door and went hastily to a shed in the rear of the Hotel Metropole. Here they proceeded to make their supper from the stolen ham.

Blair Poe, who had been in the saloon and noticed the ham on the counter, saw the men come out with the suspicious looking parcel. He soon made the discovery that the ham had been stolen. The police were notified at once and the two men were captured by Constable Thorne after an exciting chase up Main street.

MARK IT INK"

This is the Way That Some Citizens of East Liverpool Get Their Tanglefoot.

Circulars are coming into our city, advising rum suckers and bilge boozers to purchase their poison by the quart, four quarts of the poison for $3.20, free of express and all other charges. The circular admits that you have a right to be ashamed of the rotgut you are receiving and intimates that you can have it marked "ink" or anything else, to deceive and gull your respectable neighbors. One well known merchant asserted this morning that a preacher at one time residing in East Liverpool was in the habit of ordering this grade of "ink," and it is said, judging from the supplies he received, he did an awful amount of writing. Another business man stated that a friend of his, a clothier, ordered four quarts of this ink, and, after testing it, could not swear whether it was ink, bilge water or bad medicine.

We have not had a lady come to our store this season, who has not made the remark: "You have the most beautiful line of boys' and children's suits I have seen anywhere."

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The central thought of conservative citizens, taxpayers and property holders, when they consider the councilmanic question, is that councilmen are selected and elected by the people for the benefit of the people. If this result be not obtained, failure is the word written opposite the name of any councilman who does not measure up to this standard. He may, by political intrigue, backed by fellows of like ilk to himself, hold power and remain in council; but he is a monumental failure, nevertheless, and the citizens at large will be blessed and benefited when he leaves his country's service for his country's good. There is no personal application meant by this on the part of the writer of this article; but, if the shoe ats you, put it on-more shame to yourself, Mr. Councilman. When you block the wheels of progress, and stand in the way of the best interests of this city and its citizenship, merely because your private interests are not specially prompted by the ballots of your brother councilmen; you become an absolute failure and are unworthy of the berth you have been given by your fellow citisens. Respectfully referred to any or all councilmen to whom this may justly apply.

such in East Liverpool. You would be astounded, readers of the News Review, if the veil of secrecy should be drawn aside and you be permitted full knowledge respecting the identity of these victims. We have men in our midst who are not even known as hard drinkers, and who nevertheless voluntarily confess that they are almost hopelessly in the clutches of the rum fiend and devil; men who have taken the Keeley cure and the Silver (L'ostage free in United States and Ash cure, remained sober for a time and then drifted back into the hell One Year in Advance.......$5 00 of their own making. Not their By the Week...... 10 result of constant tippling, attracted by the damnable open saloon door, which greets them and tempts them on every hand. At an early hour this morning. Friday, April 20, 1900, three such victims of the rum and saloon devil walked the streets of East Liverpool, vainly trying to get a drink, for the purpose of satisfying the awful craving within. Vainly trying, say you, in this city, where rum can be had over the bar at any hour, day or night, week day or Sabbath day. Yes, vainly trying. Why? Simply because the poor, miserable victims had been drained dry of cash, and had so often been found in this condition that no one would loan them even so much as a penny, and no keeper of hell hole or dive would trust them for the price of a drink. God pity such men. And God have mercy on a government which will license a traffic which creates such victims by the thousand annually.

THE WIDE AWAKE PRINTER.

The newspaper compositors' occupation is very much a thing of the past. The wonderful Linotype has taken his place. The daily journal has made wonderful strides in consequence. In the composing room, the work of the foreman has been very much lessened and very much simplified, and the work of the floor hands and setters of advertisements is rendered very much more pleasing. The operator at the Linotype generally comes from the force in the composing room, or at least the rule in the union organization is that the oldtime hand compositor must have the ness men of this city. If this be preference. If he becomes speedy in true, and George is not now an ardent the operation of the machine—speedy and accurate—he has a soft snap, at lucrative employment, prices ranging from $15.00 to $30.00 a week, according to expertness and location. this connecting link with our chief In the small daily offices, where but one machine is used, the operator usually fills the bill of machinist, as well as that of operator. He can learn both in the short space of from four to six months. In East Liverpool he now receives $19.20 per week, of of 60 cents per hour for any over time move. his services may be demanded. Then the wide-awake (?) printers in the composing room determine to "Kill the goose that lays the golden egg," as remarked by an employer of printers in this city. His union (?) demands a reduction from nine to eight hours per day; less work you see, and less hours, and an advance of three dollars per week for the foreman and three dollars for the floor or job hand. Truly the wide-awake (?) printer is a hustler, and very keen, and he never halts in his hustle to sing that good, old song: "You'll Never Miss the Water 'Till the Well Runs Dry."

But 418 votes are necessary to nominate and Laylin has now more than enough to win. There was some talk that Mr. Manington would likely withdraw his name, but this is not true. FRICK IN GATES'SHOES

Rumored He Will Be American Wire Chairman.

CARNEGIES SAID TO BE IN CONTROL

Alleged That Gates Will Be Asked by the Directors Today to Resign-Report of the Proposed Consolidation Comes from Chicago.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The Herald to-

Wall street is full of rumors to the effect that John W. Gates is to be deposed as the executive head of the American Steel and Wire company. These stories, which have been in circulation for some time, assumed tangible form yesterday when it was said that a syndicate, headed by Andrew Carnegie, Henry C. Frick, the Seligman interests and the Moore brothers, has obtained control of the compary and will put Mr. Frick in Mr. Gates' place.

Although this story met many denials, and absolutely no confirmation, it received much respectful consideration and had more or less to do with the strength which Steel and Wire and other steel stocks showed during the greater part of the day.

Nothing can be learned of the plans of this anti-Gates movement, and it is impossible to get any confirmation, or even foundation, for the story that he is to lose control of the company.

President John Lambert is expected in Wall street today, and it is said that during the next 24 hours there will be important conferences, from which Mr. Gates will be excluded, although he will be the topic discussed. Wall street hopes that at the meeting to be held today the Steel and Wire directors will order the reopening of the plants recently shut down.

Many of the stories regarding steel and wire that have been circulated so freely of late met denials yesterday

(Thursday.)

President Rudolph Keppler, of the Stock exchange, declared that there is absolutely no truth in the report that the company's shares are to be dropped from the exchange's trading list. He said that the exchange had received no complaint whatever of Mr. Gates or of the Steel and Wire stocks. The report that the next Steel and Wire dividends will be paid in scrip, if at all, was neither confirmed nor denied. Chairman Gates was not at his office during the day, it being said that he was at the Westchester Country club. At the of-fice of Seligman & Co., none of the rumors concerning Steel and Wire affairs would be discussed.

The Tribune today said A report which found many believers yesterday afternoon was that Mr. Gates would be requested by the directors today to resign the chairmanship of the board and that H. C. Frick would be elected to succeed him; and it was added that President Lambert, of the Steel and Wire company, who left Chicago for this city on Wednesday night, has tarried at Pittsburg a few hours on his eight hours daily, with the snug price with Mr. Frick regarding this rumored

Charles Snyder, Well Known Pencil Peddler, Struck by a Train Yesterday

INSTANTLY

Was Crossing the Tracks to the Ferry at Smith's Ferry When Run Down.

HOME WAS IN HAMMONDSVILLE.

Charles Snyder, aged 25, was instantly killed near Smith's Ferry yesterday at 12:30 o'clock by being struck by the east bound passenger train due in this city at 12:15. His body was placed on a baggage truck and taken into the freight house at the Smith's Ferry station, where it remained until this morning, when an inquest was held by the coroner of Beaver county.

Snyder is from Hammondsville and is well known about this city. He was deaf and was walking along the track toward the ferry. The engineer pulled the whistle and tried to stop the train, but was not successful.

Snyder has been in this city often. He peddled lead pencils and always communicated with persons by writing. He wore glasses and had his hat generally pulled down over his forehead. The body will be taken to Hammondsville for burial.

George Cox Hasn't Been Given a Hearing for Stealing That Lead Pipe.

George Cox is still in jail and will not be given a hearing until every effort is made to find his accomplice. Chongeye Gallagher. Their lead pipe cinch is almost over now, as the police are on their trail, and their pipe dream of how to get wealthy without work will be dispelled.

The lead pipe which was recovered yesterday from the junk shop of W. H. Shackler at Wellsville, has been identified by Arbuthnot.

TRIED TO AVOID SCOTT.

Ex-Congressman Colson Testified in His Own Behalf - Witness Told of Threats Against Him.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 20.-Colonel David Colsen, in his testimony at his trial for murder, in this city, stated the object of his visit to Frankfort, when the tragedy occurred. He said:

"I did not know Scott was here. I met Scott and Golden in front of the hotel. When I saw them I bore to the left to avoid meeting them, but I kept my eye on them. I then went into the hotel. There I met Mayo, and sat down to discuss some business matters with him.

Here Colson left the witness stand so as to illustrate the scene in the hotel.

In cross-examination Colson said he did not know who fired the second shot. Did not remember when Scott caught Demaree and that his second pistol was not drawn until after Scott and Demaree fell.

Major R. C. Crumbaugh, of Hopkinsville, testified that Colson, when at Lexington during the last Republican convention, had gone out of his way on three different occasions to avoiz' meet-

THE NAVAL BILL DEBATED

Question of Survey of Ocean About Our Recently-Acquired Islands Discussed in House.

Washington, April 20.—The house spent most of the session debating a proposition in the naval bill designed to turn over to the navy the survey and charting of the waters of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The bill carried an appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose. Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee, led the fight against it, arguing that 'such surveying of these waters as should be made should be performed by the coast and geodetic survey, which, he said, could do the work cheaper and better. In the end the house sustained his view, adopting an amendment offered by him to appropriate only the regular $10,000 for ocean surveys. The chairman of the committee of the whole, Mr. Payne, overruled the point of order against the appropriation for the new naval academy, but an amendment offered by Mr. Cannon was adopted, providing that before the money appropriated by the bill for the academy be expended plans for the whole improve-ment not to exceed $6,000,000 be submitted and approved by the secretary of the navy.

IDAHO STRIKE PERMIT SYSTEM.

Attempt Made to Show Merriam's Connection With Enforcement.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The crossexamination of Dr. Hugh France was continued before the Coeur d'Alene investigation. Dr. France justified the procedure, because of the disorder following the blowing up of the Bunker Hill mill. Much of the questioning was designed to bring out the extent to which General Merriam and the United States forces participated indirectly in the enforcement of the permit system.

DETAILS GIVEN

In a Lisbon Paper Concerning Those Alleged Fairfield Township Forgeries.

Lisbon Patriot.

Last Monday week William S. Newhouse, of Fairfield township, stock dealer, came to Lisbon, bought a ticket for Pittsburg and quietly left the state and up to this time his years ago he married an only daughter of Henry DeRhodes, of Fairfield township, and Newhouse and his wife continued to live at the old home with shipper of stock to the Pittsburg markets for a number of years. Before leaving it is claimed he forged some notes, signing the names of Henry DeRhodes and Reason Newhouse to same. He took with him about $2.000 in currency. He left his wife and one child behind, and it is said family troubles caused the absconding. Two sides are stated. One is that the DeRhodes family ill treated Newhouse, while on the other hand it is claimed that Newhouse fell into drink and other evil habits in Pittsburg and that his own conduct brought on the trouble. One of the creditors is William H. DeRhodes, who has a claim against Newhouse amounting to $687.38 due, he says, on an account. He has filed suit on the same and has caused an attachment to be issued against certain personal property belonging to Newhouse which is in possession of Henry DeRhodes. The property consists of stock, etc.

HE WAS THE MONKEY.

He Tried to Evade and Baffle and Disconcert His Faithful

Wife.

He had been making a fool and a guy of himself, by and through the medium of bad whisky and beer, obtained in various rum holes in East Liverpool. He had been spending hard-earned money in these dens of vice and iniquity, money which was sadly needed in his home, and the wife was endeavoring to get him away from his boon companions and away from public gaze, where he was disgracing her and himself. Maddened by the drink devil, the otherwise kind husband, a good man when sober, answered his faithful partner with:

"Say, old woman, you'd best go home and leave me alone. You ought to have better sense than to fool with me now. Don't you know that you are makin' a monkey of yourself?"

The true and plucky wife was not a whit abashed, and was fully equal to the occasion. Laying her hand upon the shoulder of her drunken husband, she looked him squarely in the eye and said:

"You're coming home with me now Jack. You're a disgrace to the whole monkey tribe in your present condition, and you'll be ashamed of yourself and your language when you become sober and your real self. Come home, Jack, and let the grinning monkeys you're now associating with go back to their cages and booze to their heart's content. You're going home with me- now!"

And Jack went home, despite the protests of the other two-legged monkeys or donkeys. And this occurred on one of the leading thoroughfares of East Liverpool. Surely, he was the monkey for the time being, and all true men and women will glory in her pluck and nerve. Banish the accursed open saloon. Put the everyday temptation away from such men.

TONY KOUNTZLER WAS CAPTURED

Officers Davidson and Dawson Arrested Him In West Virginia After

CHASING HIM TO A DUGOUT

Store of W. R. Caldwell.

Kountzler, who assisted Heckathorne in stealing clothes from the store of W. R. Caldwell on the night of March 14, is in jail and will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow by Chief Thompson.

Kountzler has been in this vicinity for four or five days and has been living in a dog tent across from Jethro. The officers knew he was there and spent two nights this week watching the place, but Kountzler had his spies out and would receive notice every time the officers were after him. His tent was so located that he could see every person who went down the railroad track toward his temporary home.

Last evening as the officers were coming from Wellsville they saw Kountzler standing on the bank near his shanty and determined to effect his capture if possible. Officers Dawson and Davidson secured a skiff and rowed to his place. He was standing back of a tree in the rear of the shanty when they caught sight of him When he saw the officers he started up over the hill, but the officers ran their skiff up on the bank and the chase began in earnest. Kountzler was chased to a point near the cup rock and then went up the hollow at Shower Bath closely pursued by the shape of police officers arrived on the reformatory. officers. He took refuge in the old dug out spring house. Here the officers found him and placed him under arrest. He did not refuse to come to this city with them and they had no trouble with him. When asked about Heckathorne he said he didn't know where he was.

When taken before the mayor he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of robbing the store of Caldwell and was bound overto court in the sum of $1,000. He will be taken to the county jail tomorrow.

SHOT A DOG.

Mayor Davidson Tries His Hand as a Marksman and Comes Out Victorious.

Before Mayor Bough retired from office several complaints had been lodged with him against a dog owned by Wilfred Wallace. Third street. The complaints continued after Mayor Davidson took the oath of office and yesterday he determined to get rid of the complaints and his dogship at the same time. The surly brute was captured and brought to city hall and tied in the rear room waiting the pleasure of the mayor. The dog was a little bit of a thing, but it was one of the kind that is so affectionate and it insisted on taking a piece out of everybody it met. After supper his honor, armed himself with a large revolver and retired to the back room to settle the question with the dog. He had a match in his hand and he struck it, while the dog showed all of its teeth and prepared to make a spring. The mayor prepared to shoot and the match went went out. For a few minutes it sounded as though the scene of the British-Boer war had been transferred to the back room of city hall and reinforcements in the scene just as the mayor emerged from the room with a smile of victory on his face . The funeral of the dog took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and Sanitary Officer Burgess had charge.

THEY STOLE A HAM FOR THEIR SUPPER

John Brown and Patrick Mooney Got Into Trouble at Wellsville Yesterday.

CHASED UP MAIN STREET

Constable Thorn Proved to Be a Good Sprinter and Captured the Men.

TOOK SUPPER IN AN ALLEY.

John Brown and Pat Mooney, of this city, were arrested at Wellsville last night on a charge of stealing a ham from the saloon of Hughey Wood, on Front street.

The men entered the place about 5 o'clock and asked for an old newspaper. Mr. Wood gave hem one and they passed through the lunch room, took a ham from the counter and wrapped it in the paper. They left the place through a Main street door and went hastily to a shed in the rear of the Hotel Metropole. Here they proceeded to make their supper from the stolen ham.

Blair Poe, who had been in the saloon and noticed the ham on the counter, saw the men come out with the suspicious looking parcel. He soon made the discovery that the ham had been stolen. The police were notified at once and the two men were captured by Constable Thorne after an exciting chase up Main street.

MARK IT INK"

This is the Way That Some Citizens of East Liverpool Get Their Tanglefoot.

Circulars are coming into our city, advising rum suckers and bilge boozquart, four quarts of the poison for $3.20, free of express and all other charges. The circular admits that you have a right to be ashamed of the rotgut you are receiving and intimates that you can have it marked "ink" or anything else, to deceive and gull your respectable neighbors. One well known merchant asserted this morning that a preacher at one time residing in East Liverpool was in the habit of ordering this grade of "ink," and it is said, judging from the supplies he received, he did an awful amount of writing. Another business man stated that a friend of his, a clothier, ordered four quarts of this ink, and, after testing it, could not swear whether it was ink, bilge water or bad medicine.

HE'S A CONVERT.

Ex-President of Council Peach drove over the upper road leading to East End yesterday, so it is said, accompanied by some level headed business men of this city. If this be true, and George is not now an ardent advocate of the paving of Pennsylvania avenue, then is George unworthy of his reputation for shrewdness and farsightedness. The paving of this connecting link with our chief suburb is an imperative necessity. Push it along.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

The central thought of conservative citizens, taxpayers and property holders, when they consider the councilmanic question, is that councilmen are selected and elected by the people for the benefit of the people. If this result be not obtained, failure is the word written opposite the name of any councilman who does not measure up to this standard. He may, by political intrigue, backed by fellows of like ilk to himself, hold power and remain in council; but he is a monumental failure, nevertheless, and the citizens at large will be blessed and benefited when he leaves his country's service for his country's good. There is no personal application meant by this on the part of the writer of this article; but, if the shoe fits you, put it on-more shame to yourself, Mr. Councilman. When you block the wheels of progress, and stand in the way of the best interests of this city and its citizenship, merely because your private interests are not specially prompted by the ballots of your brother councilmen; you become an absolute failure and are unworthy of the berth you have been given by your fellow citizens. Respectfully referred to any or all councilmen to whom this may justly apply.

GOD PITY THEM.

God pity the men who are so cursed by the drink habit as to make that minority will go on record as a prohabit their master. We have many test.

such in East Liverpool. You would be astounded, readers of the News Review, if the veil of secrecy should be drawn aside and you be permitted full knowledge respecting the identity of these victims. We have men in our midst who are not even known as hard drinkers, and who nevertheless voluntarily confess that they are almost hopelessly in the clutches of the rum fiend and devil; men who have taken the Keeley cure and the Silver Ash cure, remained sober for a time and then drifted back into the hell choice, mind you, but the inevitable result of constant tippling, attracted by the damnable open saloon door, which greets them and tempts them on every hand. At an early hour this morning, Friday, April 20, 1900, three such victims of the rum and saloon devil walked the streets of East Liverpool, vainly trying to get a drink, for the purpose of satisfying the awful craving within. Vainly trying, say you, in this city, where rum can be had over the bar at any hour, day or night, week day or Sabbath day. Yes, vainly trying. Why? Simply because the poor, miserable victims had been drained dry of cash, and had so often been found in this condition that no one would loan them even so much as a penny, and no keeper of hell hole or dive would trust them for the price of a drink. God pity such men. And God have mercy on a government which will license a traffic which creates such victims by the thousand annually.

THE WIDE AWAKE PRINTER.

The newspaper compositors' occupation is very much a thing of the past. The wonderful Linotype has taken his place. The daily journal has made wonderful strides in consequence. In the composing room, the work of the foreman has been very much lessened and very much simplified, and the work of the floor hands and setters of advertisements is rendered very much more pleasing. The operator at the Linotype generally comes from the force in the composing room, or at least the rule in the union organization is that the oldtime hand compositor must have the preference. If he becomes speedy in the operation of the machine-speedy and accurate—he has a soft snap, at lucrative employment, prices ranging from $15.00 to $30.00 a week, according to expertness and location. In the small daily offices, where but one machine is used, the operator usually fills the bill of machinist, as well as that of operator. He can learn both in the short space of from four to six months. In East Liverpool he now receives $19.20 per week, of eight hours daily, with the snug price of 60 cents per hour for any over time his services may be demanded. Then the wide-awake (?) printers in the composing room determine to "Kill the goose that lays the golden egg." as remarked by an employer of printers in this gity. His union (?) demands a reduction from nine to eight hours per day; less work you see, and less hours, and an advance of three dollars per week for the foreman and three dollars for the floor or job hand. Truly the wide-awake (?) printer is a hustler, and very keen, and he never halts in his hustle to sing that good, old song: "You'll Never Miss the Water 'Till the Well Runs Dry."

The work of selecting delegates to the Republican state convention will close on Saturday, and the friends of Hon. L. C. Laylin claim that he will not have less than 600 votes and the nomination, without even a close race with his competitor, Howard Manington. But 418 votes are necessary to nominate and Laylin has now more than enough to win. There was some talk that Mr. Manington would likely withdraw his name, but this is not true. His friends say he stands for a principle, and if he is defeated, the

FRICK IN GATES'SHOES

Rumored He Will Be American Wire Chairman.

CARNEGIES SAID TO BE IN CONTROL

Alleged That Gates Will Be Asked by the Directors Today to Resign-Report of the Proposed Consolidation Comes from Chicago.

NEW YORK, April 20 .- The Herald today said:

Wall street is full of rumors to the effect that John W. Gates is to be deposed as the executive head of the American Steel and Wire company. These stories, which have been in circulation for some time, assumed tangible form yesterday when it was said that a syndicate, headed by Andrew Carnegie, Henry C. Frick, the Seligman interests and the Moore brothers, has obtained control of the compary and will put Mr. Frick in Mr. Gates place.

Although this story met many denials, and absolutely no confirmation, it received much respectful consideration and had more or less to do with the strength which Steel and Wire and other steel stocks showed during the greater part of the day.

Nothing can be learned of the plans of this anti-Gates movement, and it is impossible to get any confirmation, or even foundation, for the story that he is to lose control of the company.

President John Lambert is expected in Wall street today, and it is said that during the next 24 hours there will be important conferences, from which Mr. Gates will be excluded, although he will be the topic discussed. Wall street hopes that at the meeting to be held today the Steel and Wire directors will order the reopening of the plants recently shut down.

Many of the stories regarding steel and wire that have been circulated so freely of late met denials yesterday (Thursday.)

President Rudolph Keppler, of the Stock exchange, declared that there is absolutely no truth in the report that the company's shares are to be dropped from the exchange's trading list. said that the exchange had received no complaint whatever of Mr. Gates or of the Steel and Wire stocks. The report that the next Steel and Wire dividends will be paid in scrip, if at all, was neither confirmed nor denied. Chairman Gates was not at his office during the day, it being said that he was at the Westchester Country club. At the office of Seligman & Co., none of the rumors concerning Steel and Wire affairs would be discussed.

The Tribune today said A report which found many believers yesterday afternoon was that Mr. Gates would be requested by the directors today to resign the chairmanship of the board and that H. C. Frick would be elected to succeed him; and it was added that President Lambert, of the Steel and Wire company, who left Chicago for this city on Wednesday night, has tarried at Pittsburg a few hours on his journey for the purpose of conferring with Mr. Frick regarding this rumored

THE NAVAL BILL DEBATED.

Question of Survey of Ocean About Our Recently-Acquired Islands Dis-

Washington, April 20.-The house spent most of the session debating a proposition in the naval bill designed to turn over to the navy the survey and charting of the waters of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The bill carried an appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose. Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee, led the fight against it, arguing that 'such surveying of these waters as should be made should be performed by the coast and geodetic survey, which, he said, could do the work cheaper and better.

In the end the house sustained his view, adopting an amendment offered by him to appropriate only the regular $10,000 for ocean surveys. The chair-$10,000 for ocean surveys. man of the committee of the whole, Mr. Payne, overruled the point of order against the appropriation for the new naval academy, but an amendment of-fered by Mr. Cannon was adopted, providing that before the money appropriated by the bill for the academy be expended plans for the whole improve-

Newhouse, of Fairfield township, stock dealer, came to Lisbon, bought a ticket for Pittsburg and quietly left the state and up to this time his continued to live at the old home with her parents. He has been an extensive shipper of stock to the Pittsburg markets for a number of years. Before leaving it is claimed he forged some notes, signing the names of Henry DeRhodes and Reason Newhouse to same. He took with him about $2,000 in currency. He left his wife and one child behind, and it is said family troubles caused the absconding. Two sides are stated. One is that the DeRhodes family ill treated Newand other evil habits in Pittsburg and that his own conduct brought on the trouble. One of the creditors is William H. DeRhodes, who has a claim against Newhouse amounting to $687.38 due, he says, on an account. He has filed suit on the same and has caused an attachment to be issued against certain personal property belonging to Newhouse which is in possession of Henry DeRhodes. The property consists of stock, etc.
